The Ohio Syzod.

This Ecclesiastical body which thes been in session in the Rresbyterian Church of this city for some days adjourned on Monday evening. Its deliberations were characterized with much good feeling and unarimity until the afternoon in which their session closed. It embraced an array of talent seldom brought together in one body, and the influence exerted for good in the several Pulpits of the city on Sabbath, and during the session, will be felt in our community. In their association with and partaking of the hospitalities of our citizens generally who extend to them warm welcome hands, friendships have been formed which were most happy, and which will be lasting .- But, after all, a firebrand had to be thrown into the deliberations of the Synod at the close of the session in the way of a memorial on the question of slavery, which stirred up some warmth of feeling, and which is calculated, if pushed forhitherto existing among brethren of the same church North and South, and necessarily to the cause of religion. There is nothing in the Bible that warrants this stab at brethren ocratic party. who manage their family and domestic matters different from our own, and yet accord as they do, to us, the right and privilege to choose what best suits us in our domestic relations and institutious. The golden rule of the Bible, if strictly ebserved, and which is perfectly applicable to this question, would obviate all these heart-burnings among members of the same christian fellowship, who south as well as north, as arden'ly worship the same God. But it is an outside pressure of partizan politicians, as well as the inherent partizan predilections of many who occupy the pulpit, that is thus arraying one portion of the Union in bitter hostility to the other, and assuming to say to their nesghbors, you must conform to our partizan gree." requirements, or our brotherly love and unity No event has ever occurred in the history of
